

1. Welcome to Bravo Company, 115th Combat Support Hospital "Bulldogs"! You are now an integral part of a team that shares a proud tradition of providing state of the art medical and surgical care to America's Soldiers on the front lines. Thank you for joining us and for your dedicated service to Soldiers.

2. Here in Bravo, we seek excellence in all we do; medical care, physical fitness, and Soldier Discipline. Taking care of soldiers is at the heart of our profession, and we take great pride in being the best, both on the battlefield and within our ranks. We are excited to have you bring your talent, our energy and your professionalism to our team.

3. In order to be able to do our mission and be the best, we set very high standards for training, readiness, and discipline; we challenge you to arrive here in excellent physical shape ready to complete our important mission.

4. A sponsor will be identified to assist your transition. Your sponsor will be contacting you no later than 30 days before your estimated report date. If you have not heard from your sponsor by that time or if you have any questions; please contact the Company training room at (337) 531-6224. Additionally, I recommend you visit the Fort Polk website at www.jrtc-polk.army.mil for additional information about Fort Polk and the local area.

5. We are honored to be your Command team and look forward to your arrival. Please let us know what we can do to help with your transition.
